

ROSELAND – Dance company

A company born in 1987 with a clear goal: to create dance shows for children and young people with the artistic quality that this audience deserves.

As a result of this dedication, it has been the first children's dance company to receive the National Culture Award in the Dance category 2007, awarded by the Department of Culture of the Generalitat de Catalunya.

The company is committed to creating shows with a long-term vision. A total of twelve productions were created during these years: Flit Flit (1990), The house through the window (1997), The thousand and one nights (1999), The Nameless Country (2001), Roseland Canal (2004), Crazy face! (2006), Catalonia Stars (2007), Navy Blue (2009), Pinocchio (2010), Journey to the Center of the Earth (2015), One Day (2017) and Geometry (2019).

In 2010 and, thanks to the audiovisual contribution of the artist Franc Aleu (National Culture Award, Audiovisual category 2012), the company started a new artistic language with its show Pinocchio incorporating technology and image as cultural ingredients. This new language continued in the production Journey to the Center of the Earth, a play co-produced by the GREC 2015 Barcelona Festival and the Sant Andreu Teatre SAT. In 2017, the company created Un dia, a dance piece without text for the little ones.

The company has performed in prominent national and international theatres and festivals, among others:

- Haifa International Children's Festival, Israel 2012.
- Calgary International Children's Festival, Canada 2013
